Abstract

I will be discussing a theorem from combinatorics, Dilworth’s theorem. I will begin by introducing partially ordered sets, chains, and antichains. Then we will prove Dilworth’s theorem, which states that if the largest antichain in the partially ordered set $P$ has size $r$, then $P$ can be partitioned into $r$ disjoint chains. Finally, I will discuss applications of Dilworth’s theorem.