

February 14: David Vogan (MIT), “Associated varieties for discrete series representations: classical groups.”

This continues last week’s seminar. I will describe Noël’s “noticed” nilpotent classes for real classical groups, and their connection to associated varieties of discrete series representations.