

Directions to Room 2-190

The conference will take place in room 2-190 of the Simons Building (Building 2). Whether you are staying at the conference hotel (the Marriott in Kendall Square) or elsewhere, your journey to 2-190 each morning is likely to start directly behind the Marriott hotel in front of the Kendall/MIT station (on the red line), in the center of Kendall Square. As you can see in the satellite image below, there is a major construction project underway that blocks the most direct route one might take. Two possible paths from Kendall Square to Room 2-190 are sketched in the image below.

The path along the river is a pleasant walk when the weather is nice, and you can enter the Simons Building from Lowell Court, directly adjacent to Room 2-190 (this entrance is wheelchair accessible). Alternatively, you can cut through North Court in front of the Stata Center (Building 32), and then enter Building 56. You will then proceed through Buildings 16, 8, 6, 2 (see the campus map). You may also find these Google Map or (better) Google Earth helpful.
